About me

Hello! My name is Álvaro, and I consider myself an open and enthusiastic person who loves learning from new experiences.

I'm passionate about traveling; this year I've had the opportunity to visit several countries, including Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Sweden.

In the future, I would love to work abroad to develop my professional skills and grow as a person. I consider myself organized and proactive; I like to be productive, and I believe that what can be done today shouldn't be left for tomorrow.

If you're looking for someone motivated, responsible, and eager to learn, I would love to be part of your team!!
